Like the great Mexican muralists, Rivera, Orozco, and Siqueiros, Munif paints the painful, colorful, and confused story of the transformation of a whole society—like Chinua Achebe of Nigeria, he shows what happened when "things fell apart".

Cities of Salt (مدن الملح #1) by Abdul Rahman Munif
Like the great Mexican muralists, Rivera, Orozco, and Siqueiros, Munif does not directly reveal that, but it seems clear enough that his novel - which is the first of a trilogy - is the story of that discovery and the subsequent formation of ARAMCO, the oil giant. The story is told through the eyes of the Bedouins. The oilmen and the Saudi royal family are seen, for the most part, as the Bedouins' adversaries.
